

Caparo Modular Systems (CMS) is a manufacturer of niche market metal pressings, assemblies, fabrications and modules and has a global customer base of blue chip clients in the automotive, aftermarket, off-highway vehicle and construction markets.

Operating from a 50,000 square metre site, the company is located in the West Midlands; the centre for UK manufacturing.

Quality pressed metal assemblies for the automotive industry

Main Press Shop: This area houses our large presses which range from 2.75m to 3.6m bed width and up to 800 tonne capacity. This facility is augmented by a light press area with small presses from 20-100 tonnes

Press capacity ranges from 100-800 tonnes with bed sizes up to 3.6m wide. These facilities are complemented by a comprehensive assembly capability. The breadth of equipment, flexible processes and skilled workforce enable the company to manufacture products from base pressings through to complex assemblies and modules in niche volumes.

A particular specialisation is the manufacture of cosmetically-sensitive exterior vehicle panels and assemblies including, doors, bonnets, and tailgates, as well as a broad spectrum of both structural and engine pressings.

CMS produce panel pressings for both structural and exterior use. These panels are produced in coated steels and aluminium. Panels are often assembled into full closure assemblies such as doors, bonnets and tailgates

CMS manufactures from a wide range of materials including mild and coated steels, stainless steel and aluminium and development plans are in place for the manufacture of products from a variety of composite materials.

In order to offer our global customers a total supply package, CMS also provides European customers with technical, commercial and logistical support for the supply of high volume pressings and assemblies manufactured by our sister companies in India.

CMS manufacture a range of engine components including rocker covers, oil pans and timing covers. These can be supplied in painted and unpainted condition to suit customers' requirements
